DETAILED ACTION

1. The Office action is in response to applicant's Pre-Appeal Brief Request for Review filed on 9/2/08 regarding the Final Office action mailed on 3/28/08. The arguments provided in said request is persuasive and, therefore, the finality of that action is withdrawn.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

4. Claims 8, 9 and 11-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over US 6,059,757 to Macoviak et al. ('757). in view of US 6,395,014 to Macoviak et al. ('014).

Macoviak ('757) discloses a valved device for use in cardiovascular surgery (see Fig. 1), the device comprising: a catheter 14; a retaining ring 20 (element 20 is a ring, as seen in Fig. 1(a)); a membrane 22 attached to the retaining ring at multiple spaced fixation points around the circumference of the ring; wherein the retaining ring is attached to the catheter via elements 18; wherein the retaining ring comprises an inner surface and the membrane s tethered to said inner surface (see Fig. 1(a)); wherein the expansion and compression f the membrane will expand and compress the opening defined by the ring in the proximal end of the tube. Macoviak ('757) is silent with regards to the valved device having an elongated tube of filter material.

However, the use of a device having an elongated tube of filter material during cardiovascular surgery is well known in the art. For example, Macoviak ('014) discloses a device, in Fig. 1, having an elongated tube of filter material 102. The filter is used to capture emboli. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the device of Macoviak ('757) to include the filter material disclosed by Macoviak ('014) because it would allow the valved device to also filter emboli circulating in the blood. The modification will have the filter material attach to the retaining ring disclosed in the '757 reference, similar to how it is attached to ring 116 in the '014 reference.

Response to Arguments

5. Since the finality of the Office action mailed on 3/28/08 is now withdrawn, this Office action is now in response to the previously set of claims filed on 12/10/07. This set of claims include an amendment to independent claim 8 to include the limitation of claim 10, but has also included the additional limitation of "...spaced apart fixation points around the circumference of ring...", which still requires new consideration. Therefore, the finality of this Office action is proper.

Conclusion

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
